On The Air

By Chris Wheeler

It's 5:45 p.m. on a hot August night in Philadelphia, one of those steamy summer evenings that makes almost every activity proceed in slow motion.

The Phillies will be on the field taking batting practice for another 25 minutes before escaping to the comfort of their air conditioned clubhouse.

The visiting club, the St. Louis Cardinals this particular evening, are loosening up along the third base line. In about 15 minutes, the gates will open and the crowd will start streaming into the Vet for the 7:35 game.

Behind the batting cage, players and coaches from both clubs are talking and laughing, the normal pre-game activity repeated in ballparks coast to coast on countless summer evenings.

Jim Fregosi and Joe Torre, managers of the two clubs about to do battle, are leaning on the batting cage when Fregosi looks to the far end of the Phillies first base dugout for the familiar figure who interrupts his routine around this same time every night.

Fregosi says something to Torre who smiles and waves toward the dugout. The Phils' skipper then trudges over with his trademark—an annoyed look which really is JUST an act.

He asks me which side to sit on and plops down with a question, "OK Buddy, what are we going to talk about tonight?"

Thus begins another edition of the Jim Fregosi Show, the manager's pre-game program aired before every game on WOGL AM (1210), the Phillies flagship radio station.

Fregosi is an announcer's dream. Through good times and bad, the Phillies manager understands the show must go on and is extremely cooperative and informative even on nights when he'd probably like to tell me to get lost.

As a long-time player, Fregosi is pretty superstitious, hence his inquiry about on which side to sit for the interview. If a win occurred the preceding day, Fregosi wants us to sit in the same spot. A loss calls for a change of venue.

We've done the show from a few strange locations, the most weird being the night we kept missing each other and I finally caught him in his office bathroom. And sure enough, the club went on a little winning streak. We tried to attract as little attention as possible as we left our normal spot on the bench and took off for that bathroom.

I must admit it was a little tough doing the show without laughing as I interviewed Fregosi while he sat on the commode. Anything for superstition, you realize. The bathroom made for some great acoustics.

For the most part, the shows go off without a hitch, but there are nights when we are tested.

Like the night I was getting ready to do a PRISM game and our radio technician came down to the TV booth with a panicked look on his face that bode impending disaster.

Jim Fregosi

The tape I'd given him somehow was blank and we had no show. A quick call to Fregosi's office and the manager was on his way to the dugout to put on the headset and do the show live.

Naturally he feigned anger before we got started and I had to remind him that we were live and that we'd have to can some of our normal banter. The show went on the air live and nobody knew except us.

Broadcasters will exchange stories about what it's like doing a pregame show with a manager. Some managers treat the broadcasters like an intrusion, even though they are paid for their time. Others give smart aleck answers and show the announcers up. Some are openly disgusted with questions that have to be asked.

Jim Fregosi is a pleasure, a man who understands his commitment to a daily show and the responsibility that entails. I enjoy talking baseball every night with this gregarious man, and hope you too enjoy the show. I also know once he reads this paragraph, I might be in for a rough day or two. But, I can handle him, believe me.

Hope you enjoy the show and if you haven't heard it, tune us in sometime. You never know where we might have been to tape the latest program.

MINOR LEAGUE News and Notes

Red Barons' Greg Legg slides safely into home during game #1 of the Governor's Cup. They went on to win the game, 4-3.

- Combined, the Phillies six minor league teams posted a 348-339 record, .507 percentage, in 1992. It marked the second straight year the minor leagues produced a winning record. Last time that happened, 1979 and 1980.
- Scranton/Wilkes-Barre won the regular season pennant in the International League East Division. Spartanburg was the second half winner in the South Atlantic League North Division.
- Three teams (Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, Clearwater and Spartanburg) of the six teams were in post-season play, a first for the Phillies since they also had three in 1980. Two other teams (Reading and Batavia) were eliminated from playoffs late in their seasons.
- Scranton/Wilkes-Barre clinched the International League East Division title on August 27, 1992. They went on to defeat Pawtucket in the semifinals, 3 games to 1. They lost the Governor's Cup to the West Division Champion Columbus, 3 games to 2, in the last of the ninth inning . . . Lee Elia was named International League Manager of the Year . . . The club drew a club-record 560,464.

All the Red Barons' 1992 season highlights have been recorded on audio and video tape. For information on how to obtain your copy, contact the Red Barons.

- Reading Municipal Stadium received major renovations this past off-season; a 15-foot extension to the front of the stadium with new ticket windows and entry gates, new offices, a new and expanded leftfield grandstand with 1,600 seats with backs, 800 individual seats (also with backs) added to the rightfield grandstand, a food grove behind the rightfield grandstand with picnic tables positioned around shade trees and a new concession stand at the third base end of the main concourse.

Really Big Input

If you browse through the Phillies record book since the turn of this century, you will notice a bevy of records and notes for Runs Batted In (RBI) in a single season.

Let's start with the records:

- Most RBI, left-handed hitter: 170, Chuck Klein, 1930.
- Most RBI, right-handed hitter: 130, Greg Luzinski, 1977.
- Most RBI, rookie: 103, Pinky Whitney, 1928.
- Most RBI, catcher: 95, Stan Lopata, 1956.

Now for the notes:

- There have been 20 different Phillies who have driven in 100 or more runs, starting with OF Elmer Flick (110) and OF Ed Delahanty (109) in 1900.
- Of that group, eight have led the National League: 3B Mike Schmidt (three times); OF Sherry Magee, OF Gavy Cravath and OF Chuck Klein (two each); Flick, 1B Don Hurst, OF Del Ennis and OF Greg Luzinski (one each).

Adjustments in the records and notes were made a year ago by Darren Arthur Daulton, the 30-year-old left-handed hitting All-Star catcher.

Daulton turned in a magical season as he drove in 109 runs. How magical? Glad you asked:

- He led the NL, the first Phillie since Schmidt in 1986.

- He set a club record for most RBI by a catcher.
- He drove in the most runs for a Phillies left-handed hitter since Klein tallied 120 in 1933.

But there was more:

- Daulton became only the fourth catcher in NL history to win the Hank Aaron Award presented to the RBI leader. He joined the likes of Roy Campanella, Johnny Bench and Gary Carter, a trio of All-Stars.
- And, Daulton became the first NL player to win the RBI title with less than 500 at bats (485 to be precise). It was done four times in the American League, three times by a guy named Babe Ruth and once by Roger Maris, a pair of New York Yankee slugging outfielders.

It is truly a mark of greatness when a catcher leads his league in RBI. It is a grueling job filled with assorted bumps and bruises from foul tips to the hands, shoulders, thighs, toes, mask and other very sensitive areas. A catcher generally doesn't play that many games because of the physical demands of the job. Plus, once he puts on the tools of ignorance (catching garb), he is into the game mentally more than any other teammate in the field. An easy job? NOT.

His post-season was filled with honors: winner of the Silver Slugger for offensive excellence at his position; catcher for the Sporting News NL ALL-Star team; trip to Japan with the Major League All-Star team and voted the Philadelphia Professional Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

Wheeze Kids Win

SPORTS ILLUSTRATED showed up in spring training ten years ago to get a cover photograph of Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Tony Perez. That trio had played a major role in the success of the Cincinnati Reds in the early 1970s. But, they were now wearing Phillies uniforms.

When that baseball season came to an end, the Baltimore Orioles ruled the world, four games to one, over the Phillies managed by Paul Owens, who was in the front office when SPORTS ILLUSTRATED took that photo.

Strange, crazy, weird, wacky . . . whatever adjective you select, 1983 was some kind of a season. Pat Corrales had managed the Phillies to a second-place finish in 1982, but things were going to be different the following year.

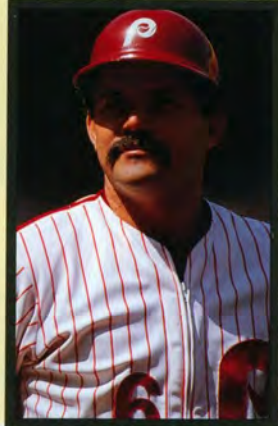

Let's check the crazy season of ten years ago:

- Only Steve Carlton, Tug McGraw, Ron Reed, Marty Bystrom, Mike Schmidt, Pete Rose, Greg Gross and Garry Maddox remained from the 1980 World Champions.
- Perez signed with the Phillies as a free agent in January. A month earlier, the Phillies acquired Morgan, Al Holland and Von Hayes in trades.
- Perez (41) and Morgan (39) were among a group of veterans, and I mean veterans: Carlton (38), McGraw (38), Reed (40) and Rose (42). When the young 1950 Phillies team won the pennant, they were nicknamed the Whiz Kids. The 1983 bunch drew the name the Wheeze Kids.
- When it came to the post-season roster, three rookies were on that team: Charles Hudson, Kevin Gross and Juan Samuel. A 21-year-old catcher made his major league debut that September, Darren Daulton.

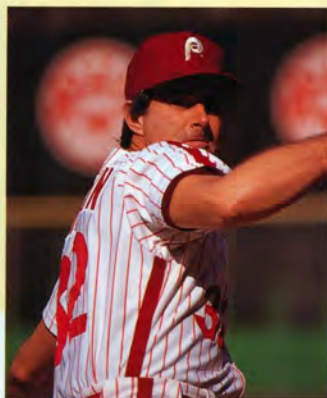

Five players began the season on the disabled list, Bystrom, Hayes, Holland, Luis Aguayo and Dave Roberts. Later, Morgan, Bo Diaz, Maddox, Ed Farmer and Larry Christenson spent time on the DL. Arm surgery ended Christenson's season and career on June 17.

- Perhaps indicative of the wild season was the Phillies fourth win of the year, four walks followed by Diaz' grand slam home run with two out in the bottom of the ninth vs. the Mets.
- Perez seemed to discover the fountain of youth. Batting .369, Perez led the league in hitting at the end of April.
- The Phillies celebrated their 100th anniversary the next day by smashing the Houston Astros, 11-3, as Perez collected three hits (.391 now) and drove in five runs.
- Following the rain out of a Sunday home game vs. San Diego (May 22), the Phillies pulled off two trades, sending reliever Sid Monge to San Diego for outfielder Joe Lefebvre and acquiring relief pitcher Willie Hernandez from the Chicago Cubs for starter Dick Ruthven.
- This team of veterans went 42 innings without scoring a run in late May. Richie Ashburn was heard muttering, "You gotta be kidding me."
- Schmidt had one of his most unusual games on May 28 against the Expos. He struck out his first four times at bat on 12 pitches, then hit the 13th pitch for a two-run, two-out, game-winning home run in the last of the ninth.
- Carlton kept piling up strikeouts after strikeouts. On June 7, he took the all-time lead away from Nolan Ryan with his 3,526th whiff. The two future Hall of Famers played tag for weeks before Ryan pulled away forever.
- During the September pennant race, Carlton whipped the Cardinals in St. Louis for his 300th win.

- Hernandez tied a major league record with six consecutive strikeouts in an early June game.
- With the Phillies (43-43) one-half game behind the Cardinals on July 18, Corrales was fired and Owens moved from the fourth level executive office to the dugout. The strange move paid off as the Phillies went on to a 47-30 record under Owens.
- Denny, whom the Phillies had acquired from Cleveland the September before, turned in a career year and won the Cy Young Award. He led the NL in wins and winning percentage. Carlton led in strikeouts.
- Schmidt was the NL leader in homers, walks and on-base percentage. Along the way, he passed Yogi Berra, Joe DiMaggio and Ralph Kiner on the home run chart.
- Holland set a Phillies record for saves and won the Rolaids Relief Man Award.
- The Phillies moved into first place on May 3, bounced around between first and second for a while, and spent all of June in third place. A four-team race was heating up as September 1 rolled around.
- Shoring up for the September pennant race, the Phillies picked up outfielder Sixto Lezcano from San Diego for four minor league pitchers after the August 31 game.
- George Foster's dramatic three-run homer in the last of the ninth sank the Phillies, 6-5, on September 5, dropping them to third place, but just one-half game out. The September battle was hard fought between the Phillies, Pirates, Expos and Cardinals, however the Phillies went on to win 21 of the next 26 games and clinch another Eastern Division title.

League Championship Series

For the third time in seven years, the Phillies (90-72) faced the Los Angeles Dodgers (91-71) in the playoffs.

LA won the previous two and were picked for a third. After all, they totally dominated the Phillies in 1983, 11-1, winning the first nine outings, five being shutouts. The Phillies managed a .187 batting average against Dodger pitching and scored a total of 15 runs.

Game 1: Schmidt homered as the third batter in the game; Carlton and Holland blanked the Dodgers, 1-0, in LA.

Game 2: Fernando Valenzuela defeated Denny, 4-1, as Series shifted to the Vet. Gary Matthews homered for lone run.

Game 3: Matthews collected three hits (second HR), four RBI and Hudson four-hit the Dodgers, 7-2. Phillies need one more win.

Game 4: Matthews (voted NLCS MVP) hit three-run homer in first inning to send Carlton to a 7-2 win and a trip to the World Series.

World Series

When the two New York teams met in a World Series it was dubbed the Subway Series.

Well, this time it was the I-95 series, the Phillies against the Baltimore Orioles. The Birds (98-64) defeated the Chicago White Sox (99-63) in the ALCS.

Game 1: Denny and Holland combined to stop the Orioles, 2-1, in Baltimore as Morgan and Maddox homered.

Game 2: Mike Boddicker held the Phillies to three hits, 4-1; Series moved to Philadelphia.

Game 3: Matthews and Morgan homered, but Jim Palmer bested Carlton, 3-2.

Game 4: Rich Dauer drove in three runs as Orioles moved to within a game of the championship, 5-4.

Game 5: Eddie Murray smashed two towering homers to right field and Scott McGregor ended the Phillies year, 5-0.

THE PHILLIES FAMILY . . .

"A Community Caring Team"

The Phillies organization strives to be a winner both on and off the field. That includes being a winner in and around the community.

Phillies players and management donate their time and money to several worthy causes, including ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease), American Cancer Society, Easter Seals and the Crohns and Colitis Foundation.

Also, the Phillies Family places great emphasis on working with schools and, more importantly, with children in general. Programs like the Phillies Rookie Leagues, Phillies Grand Slam Reading Program and Phillies Straight-A program are all designed for children in the community.

In 1993, the Phillies continue to do their fair share to help the community. Several Phillies players, including Darren Daulton, Mariano Duncan, Pete Incaviglia, Danny Jackson, Ricky Jordan, John Kruk, Mickey Morandini, Terry Mulholland, Curt Schilling, Milt Thompson and Mitch Williams have pledged to donate portions of their 1993 salaries to charity.

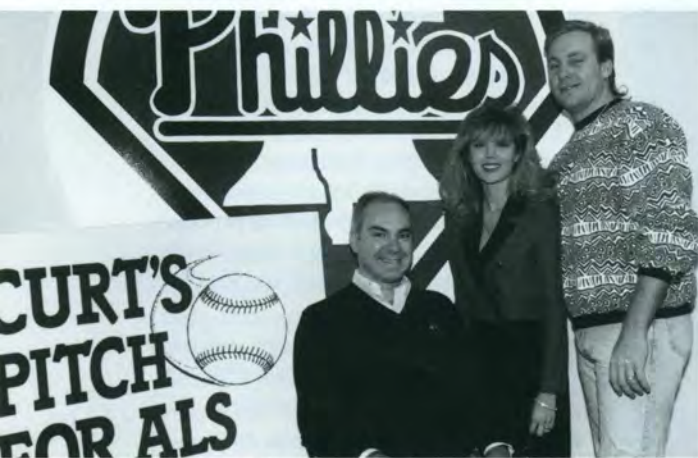

There are more ways for a ball club to be a winner than just winning ball games. The Phillies Family . . . "A Community Caring Team."

John Kruk signs a soccer ball for leukemia patient Danny Clark, the recipient of fund raising efforts organized by Phillies scout Hank King.

Members of the Hunting Park Baseball Association, part of the Phillies successful Rookie League Program, enjoy the antics of the Phillie Phanatic at the Opening Day Ceremonies of their season. Rookie League gives inner-city children the opportunity to play baseball by providing uniforms and equipment to those teams who cannot afford them.

Curt and Shonda Schilling pose with ALS patient Dick Bergeron to kick off "Curt's Pitch for ALS." With a personal donation of $15,000, Curt and Shonda hope others will join the campaign to pledge money based on Curt's pitching statistics for ALS.

A treasured autograph from Darren Daulton is what one lucky fan received at the annual Phillies Autograph Party and Auction for ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease). In 1992, the party raised $348,000 for ALS, bringing our 9-year total to over $1.5 million dollars.

Ex-Phillies pitcher Dickie Noles delivers a special pitch — his message about the dangers of drugs and alcohol to the students of the Osage School in Voorhees, NJ. Dickie recently was named the 1993 International Christian Athlete of the Year by the Lay Witnesses for Christ in Ft. Worth, Texas.

FAN CONDUCT

ANIMALS: Not permitted, except service animals for impaired or disabled fans.

ALCOHOL: Stadium management policy prohibits bringing alcoholic beverages into the stadium. Gate and Security personnel are instructed to enforce this rule in the interest of your safety.

AUTOGRAPHS: Fans may seek autographs on the outfield side of both dugouts from the time the gates open until 45 minutes before the game or until the ticket holders of those field boxes arrive.

BANNERS: Banners and signs are welcome, provided they are in good taste as determined by the Phillies. They may not be hung or displayed on any part of the playing field or in a way that obstructs the view of fans or any stadium sign. If a banner interferes with the players' sight lines, the umpires may request its removal. Signs utilizing wood or metal material for support or other types of wooden objects (brooms, etc.) will not be permitted in Veterans Stadium.

BOTTLES, CANS, COOLERS & THERMOSES: A City of Philadelphia ordinance prohibits bringing cans and bottles (glass or plastic) into the stadium as a safety measure. A thrown bottle or can could severely injure someone. Phillies Security will ask you to: (1) dispose of the bottle or can at the gate, or (2) return it to your car. Coolers are permitted provided they do not contain alcoholic beverages. The Phillies regret any inconvenience but hope fans realize the necessity of eliminating a threat to the players' safety as well as your safety, comfort and pleasure.

CAMERAS & VIDEO EQUIPMENT: Cameras are permitted. Video cameras are permitted but cannot be used to reproduce the game and must not interfere with other fans' enjoyment of the game.

CLEAN TEAM: A group of employees patrol the stadium concourses and pick up litter to keep YOUR stadium clean. YOU can contribute to the cleanliness by disposing of waste in the proper containers.

CONDUCT: Fans using foul or abusive language, making abusive gestures or appearing to be intoxicated will be ejected from the stadium. If you observe a problem, please contact a host, hostess or security guard immediately. They have been trained on how to handle these situations and will be able to take the proper action. Should a member of your group become intoxicated, by all means don't let him or her drive!

FOUL BALLS: You are welcome to keep any foul balls hit into the stands. BUT, do not interfere with any ball in play, especially those of you sitting on field level. National League rules call for the ejection of fans who interfere with a ball in play. Fans assume all risks and dangers incidental to the game of baseball, whether occurring prior to, during or subsequent to the actual playing of the game, including, without limitation, injury from thrown bats, thrown or batted balls and spectators' conduct, and holder agrees that neither the Phillies nor the opposing club nor their respective players or agents shall be liable therefore.

PLAYING FIELD: In accordance with National League rules, any fan who enters the playing field shall be ejected from the stadium.

RADIOS & TELEVISIONS: Radios and hand-held televisions are permitted only if they don't interfere with other fans' enjoyment of the game.

SCALPERS: It is illegal to attempt to resell tickets on Veterans Stadium property. Tickets associated with such transactions are subject to confiscation. Many times scalpers misrepresent the date or location or have stolen tickets. Tickets should be purchased at official Phillies Ticket booths located on the Podium Level.

SMOKING: Restricted policy instituted this season. Smoking is not permitted in seating areas of all levels plus rest rooms. Smoking is allowed in concourse areas. Fans abusing this directive will be given two notices. A third notice means eviction from the stadium. Refer violators to hosts, hostesses or security guards.

TAILGATING: City of Philadelphia ordinance prohibits tailgating in parking lots managed by the Philadelphia Parking Authority (Veterans Stadium and Spectrum). Tailgating is permitted in the parking lot area south of Zinkoff Blvd. (area surrounding former JFK Stadium).

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS/SERVICES

ACCUTOSS: A pitching machine that tests your ability to strike out a batter or walk him is located behind section 250. Proceeds benefit ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease), the Phillies Family charity.

ANTHEM SINGERS: The Phillies do not permit individuals to perform the Anthem unless they are nationally known, professional singers. Groups of 15 or more are welcome. For more information, call (215) 463-6000, extension 219.

AUTOGRAPH MONDAYS: On six different Mondays (starting June 7), early fans will have the opportunity to obtain an autograph from one of six players. There are a limited number of coupons as the players are restricted to a 30-minute signing period. Sponsored by Medford Meats.

BIRTHDAY SPECIAL: Receive "Happy Birthday" greetings from one of the Phillie Phansters, a special birthday card from Phillie Phanatic, a cap and see your name in lights on the scoreboard for only $12.00. Arrangements must be made at least two days in advance by calling the Phone Center at (215) 463-1000.

BROADCAST DREAM: An opportunity to simulate broadcasting a half-inning of a game is given away every game by the Phantom Phan to three lucky fans. Fans get to keep a cassette of their half-inning.

CATALOG: To obtain a catalog of Phillies Merchandise, visit the FAR or Newsstands; write to the Merchandising Department; or call (215) 463-1000.

GIFT DAYS: Every Sunday (starting April 25) features a promotion in which selected fans receive free items from the Phillies (check the schedule for details).

GRANDSTAND FIELDER: Catch a foul ball and become an honorary member of the Phillies. Your certificate is signed by Manager Jim Fregosi. Sorry, no contract if you make an error.

HALL OF FAME: Plaques honoring former players with the Phillies and old Philadelphia Athletics are displayed behind section 224.

MAC CARD: Accepted for purchases at both Newsstands and Advance Ticket Windows.

Newsstands: Two different locations, behind sections 247 and 535. Fans may purchase their favorite baseball publication, video or baseball card set. Credit and MAC cards accepted.

PHANAVISION: Large video screen in center field upper deck provides stats, charts, photos, funny videos and much more information to make your visit a pleasant one.

PHANTASTIC PHAN OF THE GAME: A lucky fan is randomly selected to receive special treatment, courtesy of MAB Paints.

PHANTOM PHAN: An "undercover" fan roams the stadium and distributes coupons for free food, upgraded ticket locations, broadcast dream and many other surprises.

PHILLIE PHANATIC: That furry creature, baseball's most entertaining mascot, will entertain you at every home game.

PHONESTERS: Fans again will have the luxury of ordering tickets to future games without missing a pitch. Phonesters roam the stadium taking orders for tickets, which will be delivered to you before the end of the game. Phone courtesy of Metrophone.

PHOTO BOOTH: Picture yourself on your own baseball card as a true Phillies fan. Located behind section 232. Proceeds also benefit ALS.

POP FLY SUNDAYS: Your Sunday ticket makes you eligible for special values at Pizza Hut as a lucky fan tests his or her ability to catch three pop ups.

SCOREBOARD: Features player information and stats throughout the game; matrix animations and stadium information. Out-of-town scores and game highlights are featured on the smaller side boards.

SOUVENIR SCOREBOOK: Game-day publication is available from vendors and the two Newsstand locations as soon as gates open. Other Phillies publications are also sold by the vendors and Newsstands.

SPEED PITCH: Test your arm strength at the Phillies' radar gun located behind section 234. Fans receive three throws and a certificate showing their top speed. Proceeds also benefit ALS.

TRIVIA TUESDAYS: Your Tuesday ticket enables you to receive a special Trivia Card and a chance to win discounted service at Jiffy Lube.

WHIZ KIDS BAND: Weekend entertainment at the gates is provided by this group of musicians (members of the Fralinger String Band).

YOUR VETERANS STADIUM

RESTAURANTS/SOUVENIRS

Ogden Entertainment Services, a company independent from the Phillies, is the concessionaire at the Stadium. In addition to numerous food and beverage stands and vendors, Ogden has several locations in which fans may purchase Phillies and other baseball souvenirs.

FOOD & BEVERAGE STANDS: Located throughout the stadium. The number of stands open for every game varies with the size of the crowd.

FOOD COURT: Two locations, one on the 200 level and the other on the 500 level. Family food; hometown delights such as hoagies, cheese steaks and soft pretzels; all-beef franks; Mexican food; hamburgers; french fries; ice cream; water ice; soda; imported beer; fried chicken and much more.

WINNERS: Casual dining and bar facility which is open pre-game and during the game behind section 248. Open to the public.

STADIUM RESTAURANT: Fine dining located on the Super Box (400) level along the first base foul line. Tickets to the game are required for admission; reservations suggested. Two seatings per game. For information, phone (215) 271-2300. To reach the Stadium

Restaurant, enter the stadium at the Eagles' office entrance and use that elevator to reach the 400 level.

ALCOHOL AWARENESS: The Phillies and Ogden are combining efforts to reduce the drinking of beer by minors and those fans who appear to be intoxicated. Beer (limit two per person per purchase) is sold only at Concession Stands. Sale of beer stops after 7th inning.

check for the postponed second game. These rules are in accordance with official Major League Baseball rules.

RIGHT TO POSTPONE GAMES: The right to postpone the playing of a game shall be vested in the home club. Once a game has started, the Umpire-In-Chief shall have the sole authority to determine whether and when play shall be halted during a game and whether and when play shall be resumed. Once a game is halted, National League umpires have been

WHEN IT RAINS

TUNE IN: Should there be threatening weather conditions, tune in to WOGL-AM (1210). WOGL is kept informed of the Phillies decisions and will be the first to know if the game has been postponed. All Phillies game-day personnel are instructed to listen to this station.

RAIN CHECKS: A game becomes official after 4 1/2 innings if the Phillies lead. Otherwise, five full innings must be completed before it is considered a regulation game. If a game is stopped before that time or postponed before it starts, rain checks (your original ticket) may be exchanged for tickets for a future game either at the Ticket Office or by mail, up to 60 days into the following season. In the case of a doubleheader, should the first game be an official one and then rain washes out the second game, fans are not entitled to a rain instructed to wait at least 1 hour and 15 minutes before calling the game. Should there be a second suspension of play, umpires shall wait at least 45 minutes. For third and any subsequent delays umpires are to wait at least 30 minutes.

SUSPENDED GAME: A different story from a rain out. A suspended game is not replayed but restarted from the last pitch made. Rules are a bit complicated but the bottom line is rain checks will not be honored for a regulation (official) or suspended game.

BRINGING YOU THE ACTION...

THE PHILLIES ARE TELEVISIONING 153 GAMES THIS SEASON, MORE THAN ever before! In addition, all 162 Phillies games will again be aired on WOGL-AM radio, so you won't miss a minute of the action.

Back with the Phillies after a 10-year absence, PHL-17 returns in 1993 to televise 85 regular-season games.

Phillies fans' favorite crew of Harry Kalas, Rich Ashburn, Andy Musser and Chris Wheeler will return to fill WOGL-AM and PHL-17's airwaves with all the Phillies action.

In addition, PRISM has increased its schedule from 42 to 45 games in 1993. Back for a second season, the trio of Chris Wheeler, Garry Maddox and Jay Johnstone will inform and entertain you throughout each PRISM broadcast.

SportsChannel Philadelphia rounds out the television trio, broadcasting 23 Phillies games. Play-by-play man Andy Musser and color-man Kent Tekulve return for their second full season together behind the microphone.
